lew York, July 5 .- Only two ball games were played at the Polo grounds today, but six could have been staged in the time that the Yanks and the Nationals consumed in splitting a double-header.

Beginning right after luncheon, the nines battled until Nick Altrock oticed that the moon was up, and they quit in time to get ready for tomorrow's engagement. In checktomorrow's engagement. In checkwon the first game 6 to 4 and that Washington took the second by a score of 11 to 5. So many players took part in the first class that it appeared as though Clark Griffith was trying to crush his opponents with weight of numbers alone. He had every member of his quad out on the green, and had that was the one bright spot of the day, paging them every five minutes. To-ward the end the fans didn't know who was who, except that those in white were New Yorkers and those in the visitors.

It is things stood out in the day's toin. S. Peck hit safely in both concests, and ran his string of hitting agmest to afely in consecutive games to wenty-six. The other feature which wenty-six. The other feature which patrons will recall and talk over in their review of the game is the somedianing of Nick Altrock, the humorous Washingtonian, whose antics on the side lines kept the fans in in uproar. Niek made an otherwise ought and knocked himself out, and n general kept the large crowd sta-ling up. Toward the close he an-nounced that he weuld probably ry out a young busher named Johnson prrow's game.

Fut the gladiators, whose activities for nearly six months kept a sporting nation agog, still remain, one by design, the other by necessity.

A day or two days more and they, too, will have faded from Toledo's view and then there will be nothing here but an immense stadium and fattened pocketbooks to remind this town of the glory that was its in the staging of the fistic drama.

Vaudeville Calla Dempsey.

Jack Dempsey, ruler of all he sur-veys in the world of swat, spent the day here reading congratulatory telegrams—and a score or more that were of a business nature. They carried to Dempsey the message that the vaude-ville stage calls to him—that the movies want to register nim so that will do the grabbing in a hurry now as we want to get away from here." While Dempsey bowed to the plaud-its of the multitude and waved back their frenzied greetings to a new idol, there lay out in a cottage far re-moved from the scene of Friday's conflict a broken, battered and smash-Jesse Willard - ex-heavy-weight

Wife Tends Willard.

By his side was a faithful wife swathing the wounds that Dempsey's mighty fists had wrought; trying with tender care to restore to something akin to normal, a face pounded almost beyond recognition. And even while she administered to her husband, Mrs. Willard said:
"I am glad that it is all over. I should have liked to have seen Jess win; any woman wants her husband to triumph. But he didn't and there is no remorse—just gladness for me. For this perhaps, means the end of the fighting career of my husband. I never have liked it—and never can. And now he is through with it for all time."

Even as the amnouncement come Even as the aimouncement comes that Jess Willard probably has fought his last ring battle, there comes a battlecry from the throat of Dempaey. For this "Utah mauler" is the true fighting man—a human who finds no greater joy than that which comes in duelling with a foe. Idleness irks him; almost maddens him.

Docks to lose their lead, the double-header, booked today at Hog Island, has been called off.

The Dry Docks have withdrawn from the league and will play inde-pendent baseball for the rest of the season. Manager Sam Frock, of the champions, decided upon this step because the other teams in the cir-cuit were not strong enough to cuit were not strong enough to-compete with his hard-hitting crew. He figured that the local fans were tired of seeing the Docks win by such one-side scores as 8 to 0 and 4 to 9. The Wilmington team, man-aged by Freddie Payne, was prac-tically the only club in the circuit which had a real chance to beat the locals.
